DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 54-103 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ray et al. (5,026,373).

Ray et al. disclose a spinal fusion implant comprising upper and lower surfaces having openings there through, a hollow interior for holding bone graft or bone growth promoting material, an insert end and a trailing end having a rear wall (fig. 1 and 5) and the implant being made from the material as claimed. Although, Ray et al. do not disclose bone growth promoting material being bone morphogenetic protein, hydroxyapatite, or both, the bone growth promoting materials as claimed are well known in the art. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ the bone growth promoting materials as claimed in Ray et al's implant in order to promote new bone to growth.

It also would have been obvious matter of design choice to employ more than one bone growth promoting material in the Ray et al. implant, since applicant has not disclosed that having two different growth promoting materials would solves an stated problem or is for any particular purpose and it appears that the implant would perform equally well with one or more promoting materials.

Coating a bone implant with the bone growth promoting material is also well known in the art. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to coat the Ray et al. implant with bone growth promoting material in order to provide a better surface for new bone to growth into the implant and forming bone fusion.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 9/14/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Ray does not teach a trailing end that is "integrally formed with said upper and lower portions of said implant". The term "integrally formed" is not necessarily restricted to one-piece article (see In re Kohno CCPA 157 USPQ 275). With the broadest reasonable interpretation, "integrally formed" is two pieces being united by such means as fastening or rigidly secured together. Ray discloses members 16 integrally formed with or fixedly secured to the fusion cage by thread or by other means.

Applicant also argues that "the trailing end of the fusion cage taught by Ray is not adapted to be connected to other spinal implant." Examiner disagrees. The trailing end of the fusion cage taught by Ray is adapted to be connected to other spinal implant if one desires to do so. The introductory statement of intended use and all other functional statements have been carefully considered but are deemed not to impose any structural limitations on the claims distinguishable over the Ra y device which is capable of being used as claimed if one desires to do so.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
